AZALEAS

AZALEA INDICA—Fast growing group of Azaleas that have large masses of flowers. These plants are well adapted for all uses from Texas on the Gulf Coast up to North Carolina on the Atlantic Seaboard. They require a slight acid soil and plenty of water. Leaf mould and peat moss are very helpful.

A. BRILLIANT—Good grower, small dark green foliage. Deep watermelon color. Very good variety. 6-8 inch only.

A. PRIDE OF MOBILE—Fast grower with large leaves. First known as "Watermelon Red". Very hardy, fast growing and a most brilliant color makes this variety popular with the retail customers and most profitable to the nurserymen, florists and the landscape architects. Flowers borne in large masses.

If you desire any that are not listed, please write, as we may have a few in the sizes and varieties you want.
